ABOUT ME

A passionate and dedicated high school student is committed to achieving academic excellence and personal development. With a strong educational background and a high level of learning motivation, I am always ready to face new challenges. My desire to continue growing and learning extends not only to academic fields but also to the development of interpersonal and leadership skills.

My specific interest lies in programming and Internet of Things (IoT) development. I have been actively learning and working on small projects involving this technology. The awarding of this scholarship would be a significant step in realizing my dream to delve deeper into this field and contribute positively to society through technological innovation.

I am prepared to commit to giving my best, seizing every opportunity, and sharing knowledge with others.
